

TOP TEN: Fast Women (On Two Wheels)

Written by Becky Shimek

---

HH brings you a list of American Women who have sped their way onto the track, dirt, and salt – breaking records while securing their spot in female moto history. Stay tuned for an International list, as naming only ten barely scrapes the surface of this ever-widening trend.

#1 Jessica Zulasky

Following a successful, professional snowboarding career, Jessica has been the primary woman racer in

TOP TEN: Fast Women (On Two Wheels)

Written by Becky Shimek

---

#2 Leslie Portefield set a world land speed record at the Bonneville Salt Flats in 2007, a feat she accomplished

#3 Graeme Klock set a national land speed record on a bike she and her husband, Brian, built for the Discobike

#4 Ashley Fitch at age 13. Ashley secured her first big score winning the Loretta Lynn Air Nautique National

#5 Jessica Patterson cross rider, Jessica Patterson has a long list of creds to boast, including 5-time WMX

TOP TEN: Fast Women (On Two Wheels)

Written by Becky Shimek

---

#6 Elena Meyer became the first female joining the ranks of the AMA Pro Road Racing scene, only the second one in its history.

#7 Karna Stoffey came to the sport back in 1994 as one of the first women ever to earn her Pro Stock license. After an

#8 Debbie Kriebel is a professional drag racer. Debbie transformed one night's whim into an 11-year calling. Her long list of

#9 Eric Parisi became the first female AMA Pro Street Motorcycle Drag Racer to run in the 7's, making

TOP TEN: Fast Women (On Two Wheels)

Written by Becky Shimek

---

#10 Debbie Dross played an important role in land speed racing on her nitrous-charged Hayabusa during ECT